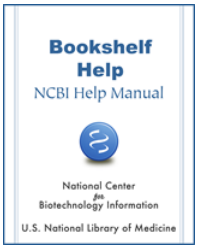
U.S. National Library of Medicine
National Center for Biotechnology Information

NLM Citation: Bookshelf Help [Internet]. Bethesda (MD): National Center for Biotechnology Information (US); 2005-. Tutorials. [Updated 2024 Jul 1].
Bookshelf URL: https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/books/



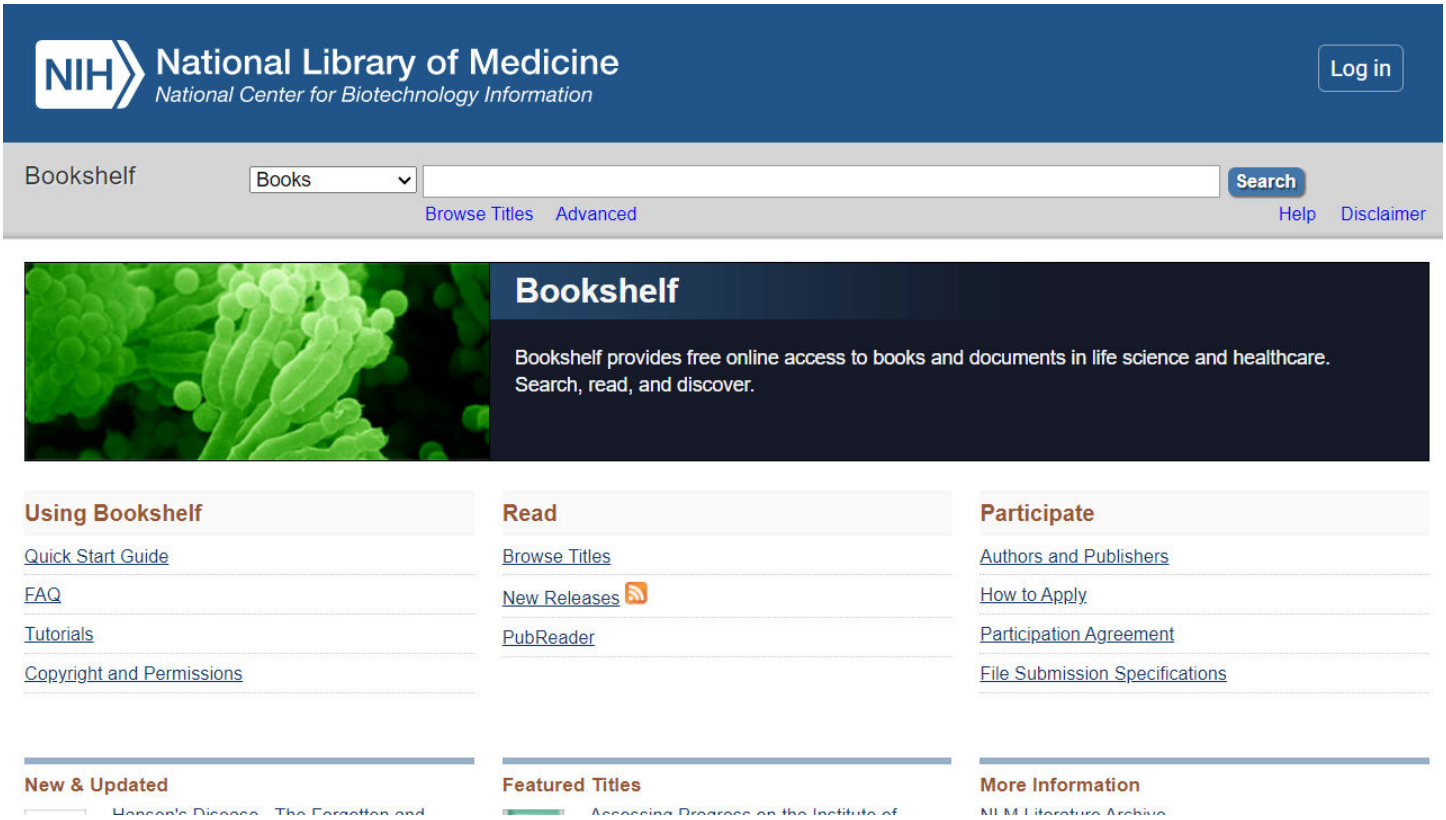
Tutorials

Updated: July 1, 2024.

This chapter contains a collection of short video tutorials that highlight the features of the Bookshelf.

Tutorial 1: Browsing

A student is just beginning his course in biology, and his teacher has recommended Bookshelf as a good source of information. The student explores which books are relevant to his studies.



Tutorial 1. Browsing

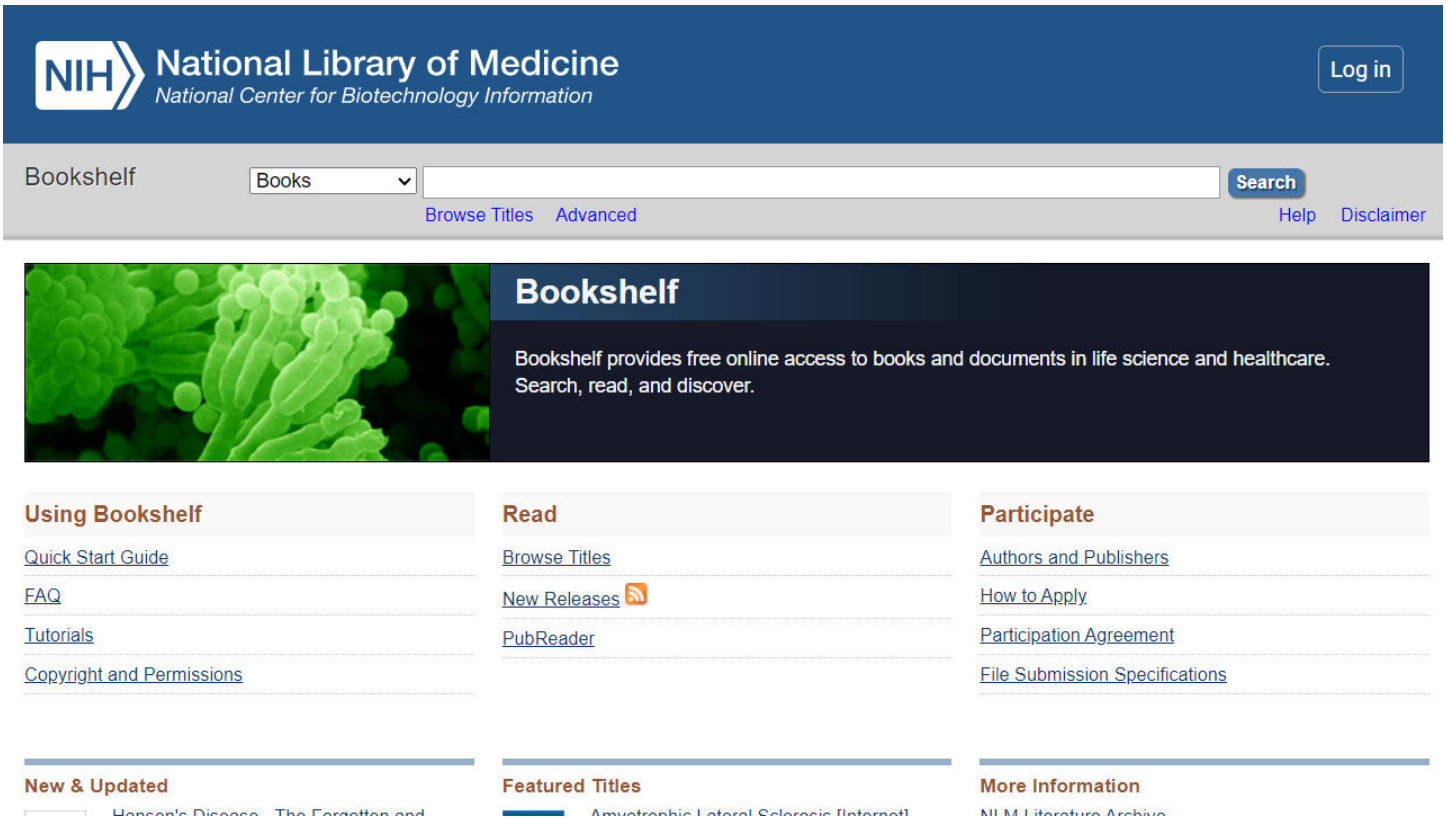
Download video

Download transcript.

Watch on YouTube.

Tutorial 2: Search

A medical student is trying to understand the role of the t-cell receptor during a viral infection.



Tutorial 2. Search

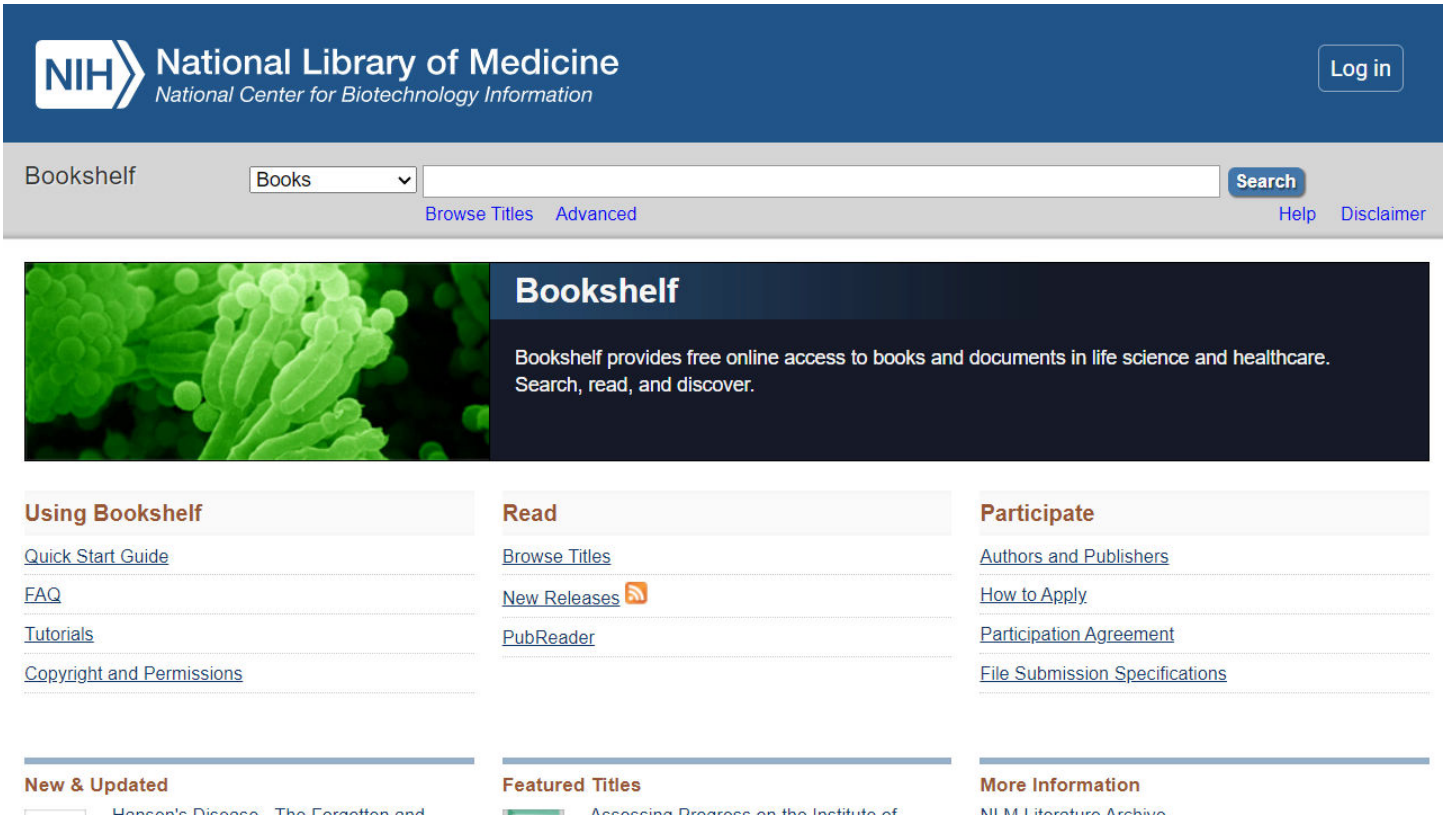
Download video

Download transcript.

Watch on YouTube.

Tutorial 3: Inside a book

A genetics counselor is seeking information on hemochromatosis. He visits GeneReviews to learn about how the disease is inherited, and the risk to family members.



Tutorial 3. Inside a book

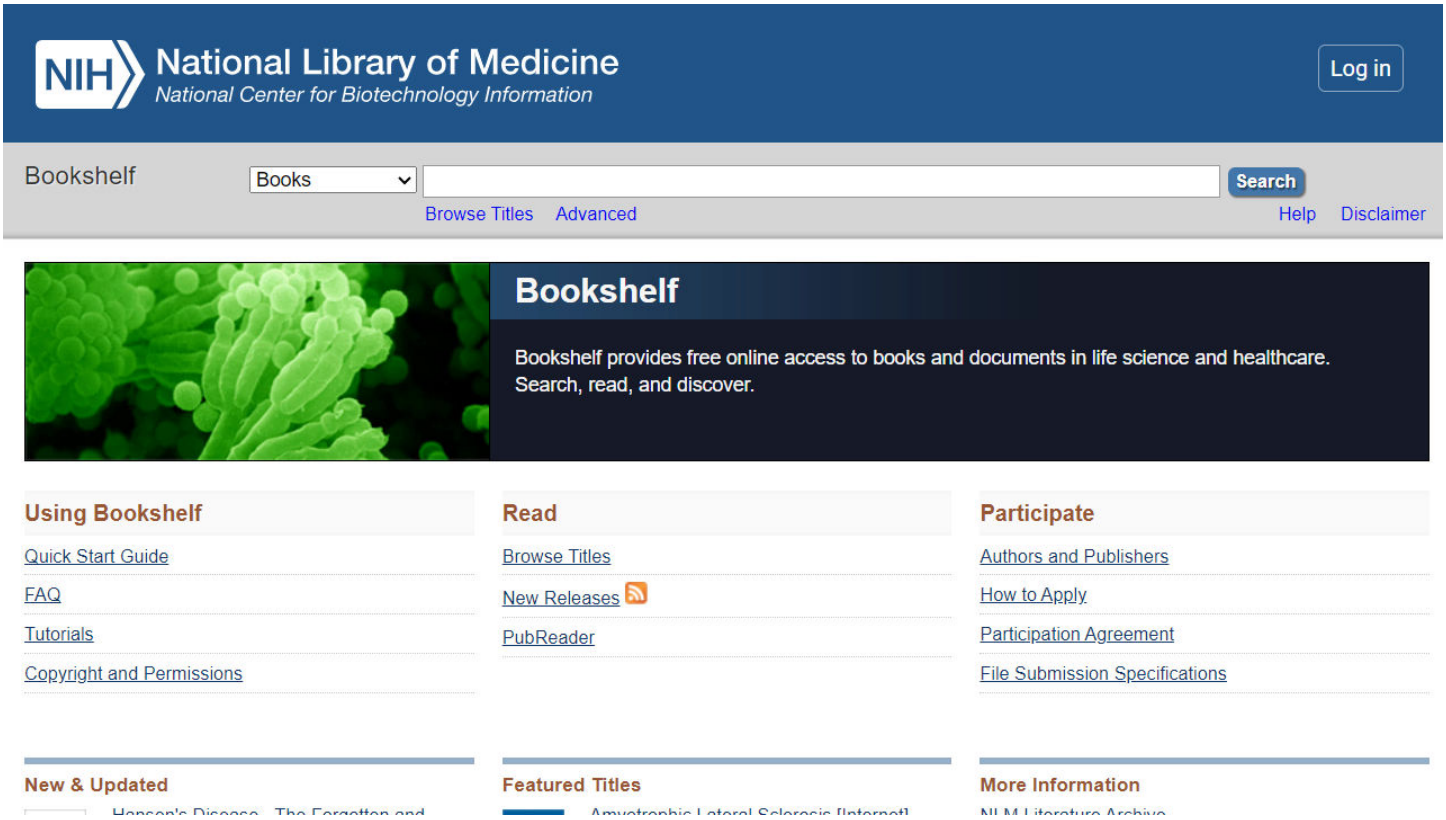
Download video

Download transcript.

Watch on YouTube.

Tutorial 4: Using facets

A user needs to narrow results while seeking information otitis media.



Tutorial 4. Using facets

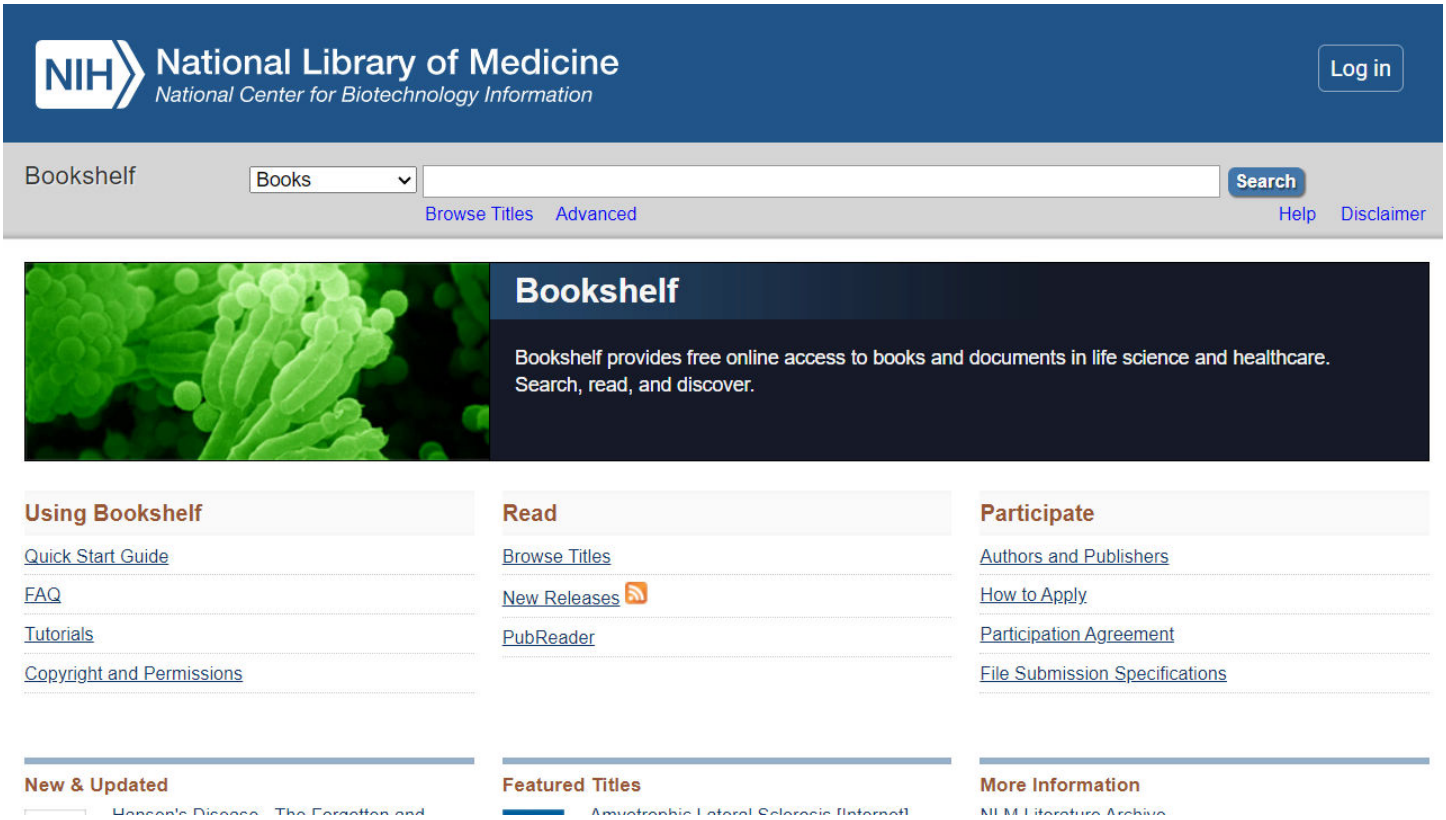
Download video

Download transcript.

Watch on YouTube.

Tutorial 5: Advanced search

A doctor is researching breast cancer. She wants to know about the BRCA gene and the drug tamoxifen.



Tutorial 5. Advanced search

Download video

Download transcript.

Watch on YouTube.